TARC Limited, New Delhi based luxury Real Estate company listed on NSE & BSE announced the launch of its ultra-luxury; high rise New Delhi Residential Project, Tarc Kailasa centrally located in New Delhi on main Patel Road.

The Company proudly announced one of the biggest launches in the capital city, Tarc Kailasa, a 1.7 million square feet development spread over a strategically located 6-acre land parcel, comprises 5 high-rise magnificent towers beautifully designed by renowned architectural practice Andy Fisher Workshop – Singapore.

The Company has thoughtfully chosen Arabian Construction Company as its construction contractor considering their expertise in high-rise construction and the large number of delivered projects all across India and also UAE.

Amar Sarin MD & CEO of TARC Limited expressed his views on the meticulously designed project never before offered amenities and luxury that the buyer community has been longing for in New Delhi, India. "Be it the expansive spread, the high ceilings, the 3-side open design for light and ventilation, very high-end specifications, private lift lobbies and the all-weather pools, Kailasa has been designed to provide the solace and tranquil we all long for. The 170,000 square feet entertainment areas, the 7-tier security, the concierge services and the large apartment formats at Kailasa have something and more for each member of your family."

Tarc Kailasa has a revenue potential of over INR 4000 Crores, and the Company reported garnering a tremendous response. Commenting on the growth and transformation of the residential real estate sector Amar Sarin shared his very positive views and belief on the growth trajectory that India is witnessing and the greater growth opportunities going forward under the admirable and glorious leadership of our revered Prime Minister Shree Narendra Modi Jee.
